8 Reasons Working in the Office Beats Working Virtually

Working from home isn't for everyone. Do you love the activity of the office and need collaboration from co-workers? Do you need to feel a sense of belonging and need the water cooler chatter? And what about the communal kitchen where doughnuts abound??

These are only a few of the reasons why working from home isn't for everyone...

"My boss says I can start working from home two days a week...Saturday and Sunday"

We Applaud our Team for their Humanitarian Efforts!

One such team member was recently at the Pinnacle Conference in Chicago. Our Senior Director - Lead Search Life Sciences, Michelle Lair, volunteered in the evening to prepare and serve dinner at the Ronald McDonald House.

A Comment from a recent Client Experience

"I've worked with Tom O'Hanlon - Director-Life Sciences Recruiting, over the span of ~ 6 years at two different Sponsors and am very satisfied. When I join companies, I tend to re-organize and then grow. I did it in my previous position at a US Biologics Headquarters company (roughly doubled my Department globally from ~ 45 to 90 in the span of two years) and am in the process of doing it at my current Fortune 500 company. I told Tom recently that he is on a very short list of Recruiters I call when I have a new opportunity. I appreciate his candid and transparent approach and I trust him as one of my go-to's. Very happy to continue working with Tom and I think he represents Scientific Search very well." -VP, Global Development Operations
